As the FDOT District IV district-wide land planners, Land Design South has had the wonderful opportunity of being at the forefront of a number of corridor planning projects throughout the years. Our project list includes the plans for State Road 7, the expansion of Okeechobee Boulevard through the heart of West Palm Beach, and numerous other roadway expansions in municipalities throughout Florida. One element remains clear, when designing a corridor or transportation route, safety is the key issue.

Our thorough knowledge of transportation regulations and state safety guidelines is evidenced by the number of quality design projects we have completed. We take pride in designing transportation corridors that are aesthetically pleasing that grow even more beautiful with time. We have worked with a number of municipalities, CRA groups, and beautification committees in developing design solutions which have fulfilled grant applications for state and local grant agencies. We typically work with transportation engineers on a team basis to examine all zoning and land use regulations as well as current projects within the study area. We then produce a report which incorporates design documents as well as recommendations regarding landscape medians, architectural features of bus stops, site furnishings and finally sign ordinances, which establishes the foundations for roadway corridors in years to come.
